

1st MOSBRI Scientific Conference

20th -22nd June 2022
Institut Pasteur, Paris

MOSBRI 2022 showcases how our integrated network can tackle an unusually wide variety of life science research questions by exploring the new cutting edge developments in molecular biophysics.

MOSBRI2022 includes an exciting line-up of invited presentations from MOSBRI partners, Scientific Advisory Board members and external speakers, as well as from scientists that have already benefitted from the free of charge Trans-National Access (TNA) opportunities that MOSBRI provides. There will also be two poster sessions, allowing delegates to present their research and to network with MOSBRI partners.
